THREE HUNDRED GO ON INTERURBAN TRIP

Knights of Columbus Give Picnic at West Yuleta and Athletic Sports Are Feature of the Day.

The new interurban electric cars made their first trip to West Yuleta Sunday to carry about 300 persons there to attend the picnic of the local council of the Knights of Columbus. The four cars left Campbell street and Myrtle avenue at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and returned to the city at 7 o'clock in the evening.

All of the families carried baskets and barbeque was served with soda water to boot. The picnic was given by the local council of the Knights of Columbus. Mayor C. Kelly, city attorney Joe M. Nelson and grand knight Joe E. Morgan, all members of the local lodge, made short speeches at the opening of the picnic. E. V. Berrien acted as toastmaster.

T. C. McCarthy was the particular star in the athletic events, carrying off first place in the broad jump, high jump and running broad jump. W. Morgan won the dash for boys and C. Cunningham won a similar race for young men. John Long won the married men's race and M. Maloney secured another win in the race in which when he won the broad jump in which both married and single men contested.

James Clifford, one of the county commissioners, showed what a pull he has when his team of married men defeated the single men captained by Jack Roman in a tug of war.

Joe Dunne said he could run 100 yards in four minutes, and he carried off all records for running down hill by defeating John Barrett, who lost his footing and fell before the finish.

Billie Berrien and John Long and two quartets of members of the local council and the second cavalry sang, and excellent music was furnished by Reyes's orchestra.

Those in charge of the arrangements were: Joe Dunne, Martin K. Redding and John Johanson.

AMUSEMENTS.
Another feature at Grecian.

Within the last ten days the Grecian has given El Paso the greatest fun of features ever shown before, and still better ones are coming. Today Warren Kerrigan, America's most popular photoplay star, will be seen in a great western thriller, "The Wild West."

The Mutual Weekly, with many of the latest interesting events and the newest fashions for women in New York and Paris, is also on the bill today. A splendid program. Don't miss it.

Coming Sept. 1st, 2nd and 3rd, the "Battle of Gettysburg," in five reels. This is the greatest war picture in the world.—Advertisement.

TODAY AT UNIQUE THEATRE.
"Uncle Tom's Cabin," a special Universal release, in three parts, will be given at the Unique. Most every one has read the book or seen the play. This production is a fine dramatization of this famous book ever seen.

Bob Leonard, one of the greatest picture actors, plays the part of Simon Legree and his work is excellent. Those who have seen this book staged should see the pictures; those who have read the book should see it; and those who have never seen the book should see it, as it is one of the greatest novels of the civil war.—Advertisement.

MORE WIGWAM FEATURES.
Again the Wigwam has a great attraction. The "Final Judgment" is a two reel feature, which is filled with thrills. The scene of action starts in the far-away Klondike and ends in Chicago.

Pathe Weekly No. 28 is full of good things, including the naval review at Kiel.

Wednesday Josie Sadler and Sidney Drew, famous for 25 years as fun makers, will bring good parts. The Vitaphone's splendid two reel comedy, "A Regiment for Two," Wednesday night will be a big feature.

Sunday the biggest feature of the month in local picture circles will be shown. It is Selig's "Alone in the Jungle," an animal picture that is sensational in the extreme. In one of the scenes it was necessary to kill a lion which was attacking the heroine. This took place while the camera was working.—Advertisement.

DEATHS AND BURIALS.
Mrs. Pauline Wesche, wife of the late Charles E. Wesche, who for 19 years was American vice consul in Paris, died at her apartment in the Courthouse block Sunday. Upper Valley Water Users Ask El Paso to Join; Ask Funds For Canals.

Las Cruces, N. M., Aug. 25.—At a meeting of the Elephant Butte Water Users' association, held here, L. Clapp, president of the association, was appointed a committee of one to confer with the El Paso Valley Water Users' association and the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in regard to a joint exhibit at the New Mexico state fair. It is planned to have the exhibit to show the general resources of the county under the Rio Grande project. The El Paso association will be expected to pay one-half of the expense.

A resolution was adopted asking the secretary of the interior to set aside for the Rio Grande project sufficient funds for the construction of distributing canals, so that lands already under cultivation may receive a dependable supply of water. A meeting of officials of the reclamation service, with directors of the water users' associations is to be arranged either at Las Cruces or El Paso.

Dr. Johnson Is Shown Valley.
George W. Johnson, E. Baker and Harold H. Hogue went to El Paso Saturday afternoon by automobile, where they were joined by Frank W. Campbell, Hugh Clary, R. Henry Sims and others, and waited as a committee upon Rev. Dr. S. Johnson, who has been in El Paso for several days as the official pilot for New Mexico, and a director of the National Southern Highways association, awaiting the arrival of the automobile from the west coast. The party left El Paso later on Saturday evening and returned to Las Cruces.

When Dr. Johnson was asked if he had any suggestions about the irrigation of the valley, he replied that next to churches he believed good roads did more for the uplift of a community and the spread of Christianity than perhaps any other agency, and that the reclamation service should do any missionary work possible in the good cause. He was shown over the valley by members of the committee, and Sunday afternoon there was a gathering of prominent citizens at the Elks' home, which was briefly addressed by Dr. Johnson and others.

Will Meet Westward.

KAISER SWEARS OFF; TAKES TO LEMONADE

Even the Famous Brew of the Kaiser is Forsaken by German Emperor, Who Becomes Tee-Totaler.

Berlin, Germany, Aug. 25.—Emperor William is reported to have joined the ranks of "tee-totalers." It is known that during his recent northern cruise the emperor abandoned use of all alcoholic beverages and it is understood that he permanently has foresworn even the fatherly famous beer and its choicest wines. As a substitute he has taken to lemonade with a dash of the development of nations and the development of man.

In imperial circles it has long been known that emperor William was greatly impressed with the study of the effects of alcohol, ranging from crime to impairment of man's working efficiency. He often expressed his opinion to members of his court that immoderate drinking was one of the greatest factors in retarding the development of nations and that while he was swearing naval recruits at Wilhelmshaven recently he took occasion to deliver a lecture of temperance. He also recently told army officers that he would be well pleased to see his health were drunk in water.

The emperor has not forced his opinion upon his friends, however, and he still occasionally takes a little public duty, perhaps for the same reason that the minister of education of the German state once opposed the establishment of a Good Templar lodge on the ground that it threatened one of the most important industries of the empire. The imperial example usually carries great weight.
